

Prof Bronwyn Myers

is a Chief Specialist Scientist in the Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Drug Research Unit of the South African Medical Research Council, where she leads the Intervention Research sub-stream. She has a PhD in Psychology from the University of Cape Town and a M. Soc Sci in Clinical Psychology from University of Natal, Pietermaritzburg. She is registered as a clinical psychologist with the Health Professions Council of South Africa (HPCSA). She has an honorary appointment at the level of Associate Professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Mental Health at the University of Cape Town, where she co-chairs the Division of Addiction Psychiatry. Over the last 15 years her work has focused on improving access to and the quality of care for vulnerable populations through delivering behavioural interventions to reduce substance use and HIV risk and integrating evidence-based mental health services into health systems. She is the principal investigator or South African PI of several US NIH-funded clinical trials as well as the holder of a British MRC and Wellcome Trust-funded implementation science grant.