

Kim Johnson

- ▶ is a Project Leader in the Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Drug Research Unit of the South African Medical Research Council. She has a Master's degree in Psychological Research from the University of Stellenbosch, where she also received training in monitoring and programme evaluation. She works in the Unit's substance abuse services research stream and has more than nine years of project management and experience working on randomized controlled trials of substance abuse interventions. Studies that she is currently working includes the monitoring and co-ordination of the Service Quality Measures (SQM's) and Young Women's Health CoOp.